We do much more than just deliver

About us

It's not just about talking a good game.

Allied Express is the largest independently-owned courier, express freight and specialised logistics company in Australia with a comprehensive range of fast, efficient express freight transport and logistical services providing an integrated solution for even the biggest clients.

We are proudly Australian, fiercely independent, customer focused and driven by a culture where we are not afraid to get our hands dirty. Allied Express' success can be measured by our ability to promise and deliver a tailored logistical solution to suit the individual needs of our clients every time.

Our Services

At Allied Express we do much more than just deliver. Our flexible service offerings can be booked online via credit card, managed through our online account facility or even face to face with one of our account management team members.

Couriers

With four levels of delivery options and urgency, Allied Express can tailor the level of delivery for every individual business need and budget.

Taxi Truck

For volume or heavy work, Allied Express can provide our Taxi Truck Fleet to either fill a gap in your own ongoing transport needs or to carry out a once-off heavy or oversized delivery.

Local Distribution

Our local freight distribution system enables us to exactly match our fleet to your transport and logistic needs, and can accurately assess your local freight distribution network in terms of area and volume.

National Distribution

Our road and air freight services and depot network, coupled with our extensive grid of regional agents, gives us a coverage that bridges the gulf between you and your customers.

Third Party Logistics

Allied Express has world class warehousing and supply chain solutions - nationally. By adding strategically-located storage facilities to the largest express freight suburban courier fleet in Australia, our ability to warehouse and distribute your products is now second to none.

Our Technology

Track & Trace

At Allied Express we give our customers complete control over their deliveries with our extensive real time online track and trace feature. Overnight express freight can pass through multiple locations but with 'Track & Trace' your freight is always 'on the radar' as it is scanned and logged every step of the way.

Fleet Management

Having an effective fleet management system is paramount to knowing the exact status of our fleet via GPS tracking and our proprietary mobile data systems. This allows us to appropriately allocate transport resources to achieve the best, most cost effective fleet 'mix' to service our clients' needs.

Online Account Management

At Allied Express we provide our customers the ability to effectively manage their logistics costs with our online account service. Access invoice information to export to Excel, verify proof of delivery and even view a receipt name and signature. We work hand in hand with our clients to deliver highly functional accounting solutions.

Our Customers

Allied Express prides itself on the tailored logistical solutions we provide for our customers. This is reflected by the quality of Australian businesses that call Allied Express their logistical partners.

Our Tailored Customer Solutions

No matter how challenging the request, Allied Express can provide a tailored logistical solution that ensures your business is confident in telling your customers "of course we can!".

Foxtel

In what is widely regarded as an extremely challenging transport requirement, Allied Express developed a seamless solution for delivering all set-top boxes and consumables to technicians and homes across metro, regional and country areas of Australia.

LG

Allied Express provided a flawless distribution model for managing fleets of specialised vehicles in all capital cities across Australia offering consistent service to both retail and home delivery customers throughout demand peaks and troughs.

Holden Australia

Allied Express pick up from Holden parts suppliers and deliver into cross managed docks to ensure critical production line continuity.

Repco

Allied Express developed and managed a tailored distribution solution for Repco distribution centres delivering retail and trade products direct to Repco retailers nationally.

Dan Murphy's

Allied Express developed a multi-layered distribution model to support the re-launch of Dan Murphy's online store. This launch was seen by Woolworths as a major success story for the group.

Fairfax Media

Allied Express provides a 24 hour logistical service for the Fairfax retail network in addition to all corporate delivery requirements.

WESTERN BULLDOGS

Our Proud Association With Australian Sport

At Allied Express we pride ourselves on our association with Australian professional and non-professional sports. We have a long history of sporting sponsorship commencing in 1978 with the sponsorship of the Bankstown Paceway Billy Cart Championships. We are sponsors of the NRL Wests Tigers and more recently AFL's Western Bulldogs. Our long standing sponsorship of Wests Magpies supports our goal of the development of young people for the future.

Allied Express is also strong supporters of Harness Racing breeders, trainers and drivers throughout NSW and sponsors a multitude of races each year.

Our Charitable Endeavours

Allied Express supports the Australian community through carefully selecting social causes and charitable partnerships as an ongoing commitment. We are recognised for our support of the Variety Club and Barnardos Australia as well as many other individual and group causes throughout the country.
