

TAXI-TRUCKS

For volume or heavy work, local, state- or nation-wide, Allied's Taxi-Truck fleet is at your service. For one-off heavy, or oversized deliveries there's a cost - effective hourly or kilometer rate depending on vehicle size. If you've got a truck off the road or you're experiencing higher-than-normal delivery demand, you can supplement or augment your own fleet with Allied's Taxi-Truck service.

Alternatively, you can organise a regular set delivery run using an Allied taxi-truck as your 'on-call' transport department for as long or as short a time as required.

As with couriers, taxi-truck service categories are Standard, VIP and Executive and they operate within the same basic time-frames as the courier service.

Due to the specialised nature of the service and some of the specific requirements such as tail-lifts and vehicle-mounted cranes (hiabs), availability of vehicles is an issue that customers must consider when booking. Vehicles are normally booked ahead to avoid delays. Also, because of the type of freight carried, loading times need to be factored-in when communicating delivery times to your customers.

Whether it's an occasional pallet, an unusually large delivery or you need a truck or two on a regular basis, Allied taxi-trucks are the ideal answer. From two tonne up to 12 tonne flat-tops and pantechs right up to semi-trailers, there's vehicle in the Allied fleet to match your need. Allied taxi-trucks are available on hourly hire or, if the job demands, on a per kilometre rate.
